Evolution Capital Partners is a private equity fund with a unique focus on the micro-cap market, enabling founders to grow their businesses using practices common in large professional organizations, but curated specifically for small enterprises. Jeff and his team rely on Benesch not only to close deals but also to meet the ongoing legal needs of their partner companies. And as leaders of a growing business themselves, they look to Benesch for these same legal services as well as broader strategic insights and business perspectives to chart Evolution's own growth and create a lasting legacy.
