Main Bio

Christopher is a dynamic and thoughtful problem-solver with over a decade of experience in complex litigation and corporate advising.

He has experience in a wide range of practice areas, including contract disputes, business torts, class-action litigation, employment law, intellectual property, FINRA, and alternative dispute resolution (ADR). He has litigated cases involving the First Amendment, the Civil Rights Act, the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act, the Uniform Commercial Code, federal and state trade secret law, and deceptive trade practices. He also closely monitors major lawsuits and other developments in video game law, and has presented at CLE programs and video game conferences.

Prior to joining Benesch, Christopher practiced at respected boutique firms in North Carolina and Ohio, where he developed a collaborative, versatile, and client-focused approach to practicing law. He has represented clients in state and federal court, including arguing successfully before the North Carolina Supreme Court. Christopher has been named to both the Ohio and North Carolina Super Lawyers—Rising Stars lists during his career for his work in business litigation.
