

Kathleen (Kat) Lynch

Associate

Chicago

T. 872.302.6482

klynch@beneschlaw.com

Main Bio

Kathleen is a skilled patent and trademark litigator and enforcement strategist. She represents businesses of all sizes, as plaintiffs and defendants, resolving their disputes at the U.S. Patent & Trademark Office, before the International Trade Commission (ITC), and in district courts.

Articulate, diligent, and a natural problem-solver, Kat is known for her analytical abilities, meticulous research and strong writing skills. She excels at crafting persuasive arguments and is experienced in drafting cease-and-desist letters, takedown requisitions and other mechanisms to safeguard her clients' IP rights. Working closely with industry experts, she ensures complex technical topics are clearly communicated to judges and juries.

Kat is also dedicated to pro bono efforts, providing support to individuals seeking asylum and assisting them with affirmative asylum applications. She also helps struggling artists and creators with trademark and copyright issues through Lawyers for the Creative Arts.

Related Practices

Intellectual Property

Intellectual Property Litigation

Education

- Case Western Reserve University School of Law, 2022, J.D.
 - magna cum laude
 - Order of the Coif
 - Publisher, Case Western Law Review vol. 72
 - Associate Editor, Case Western Law Review vol. 71
 - Founding Member, Student Legislative Initiative of Cleveland
 - Recipient, Hugo Grotius Fellowship
 - Law Ambassador and Tour Guide
 - Peer Mentor
- University at Buffalo, 2019, M.S., Library and Information Sciences
- Ohio Wesleyan University, 2013, B.A., English and Spanish Literature
 - With honors

Credentials

- Illinois

Memberships

- Chicago Bar Association
- Chicago Women in IP

Languages

- French (Conversational)

- Spanish (Full Proficiency)