Main Bio

Alexandra focuses her practice on complex litigation, bringing strategic problem-solving skills and strong research capabilities to support a diverse client base. She has experience preparing reports, recommendations, and motions. She currently volunteers as a court-appointed special advocate, working to ensure safe environments for children under court supervision.

During law school, Alexandra served as a judicial extern for Judge Morrison of the Southern District of Ohio and actively participated in negotiation and moot court competitions. She also worked with the Justice for Children Clinic, where she served as a Guardian Ad Litem and assisted with immigration matters.
